

corporate team build day

Our Corporate Team Build Days are a great opportunity for a company to engage their employees in a positive team-building activity while giving back to the community. Volunteering together to help build the home of a hardworking, low-income Habitat family is a uniquely rewarding experience for any organization.

How does it work?

We will host your group of up to 25 participants (number subject to site limitations) at our active build sites, a home preservation project site, or one of our two ReStores, providing all materials needed. No experience necessary. Build days available: Thursday-Saturday, from 8:30am-2:30pm, ReStore days more flexible.

How does it benefit your corporation (varies with size of sponsorship)?

- Construction site made exclusive to your group
- Recognition on social media and website
- Habitat t-shirts, group photo(s) and lunch
- Strengthening your team while making a lasting and profound change in our community

Build Day Cost: $2,500

How do I set up a Corporate Team Build Day?

If your company is interested in a Build Day, please email volunteer@habitatventura.org and we can start setting up your special day. You can also find more information on our website at
